

“The Diverse and Valuable Uses of Flower Essences” An Online Workshop

Presented by Patty Summers

Are you looking for holistic ways to deal with animal fears, car sickness, lack of confidence, separation anxiety, etc.?

Flower essences have been valuable tools in my 20 year animal communication practice and personal life.

This online course will provide information about flower essences (focusing on Bach and Green Hope Farm) -- when they may be helpful and the various ways to administer them. You will have an opportunity to “practice” determining which essences may be helpful for three animals. As you learn about flower essences, you will be able to share your thoughts online and receive feedback from your peers and Patty. (The teleconference will be recorded for those who are not able to participate the scheduled time.)

Dates: June 22-27, 2018

Activities are self-paced.

Teleconference: June 26, 2018 at 7:30 PM

Eastern Daylight Saving Time

Cost:* $75
